HUNTER INDUSTRIES, INC. PHILANTHROPIC PHILOSOPHY

Ryan,

Hunter Industries, Inc. holds Family and Social Responsibility as core values and has a longstanding history of supporting the local community. Hunter Industries, Inc. believes charitable giving to organizations is important to the health and well-being of the community and is part of our obligation as good corporate citizens.

United Way of San Diego County

For almost a century, United Way of San Diego County has aligned with partners to address inequities in our region and help underserved communities.

But we can't do it without you.

We need your help so that more students:

- read at grade level
- attend school every day, on time
- graduate from high school
- track toward local careers in high-wage industries
- live in households that can make ends meet

We know that when we align with partners and donors like you, and leverage our combined resources, we can transform the lives of children, young adults, and families across San Diego County.

Donate today and watch our impact grow from hundreds of children and families to hundreds of thousands of children and families, as a result of your generosity.

Employees are greeted with a customizable message from the company as well as a message from United Way.

From the home page, they can also access their account information, see their last two years of pledging history, find help, read UWSD's privacy policy, find volunteer opportunities, or donate.

UNITED WE CAN

For 100 Years...

United Way of San Diego County has worked in alignment with partners to address inequities in our region and help underserved communities. We have stayed vital to this community in great part due to the rich relationships we share with our corporate and community partnerships.

San Diego has always been a community of change, and ever since we began in 1920, our organization has proudly met that challenge, adapting to the needs of a region in transition. Our efforts to continue being a community of change, to continue transforming lives, are as critical as ever.

The urgency is now.

- ### San Diegans Desperately Need COVID-19 Relief: How UWSD Is Helping

The current Coronavirus crisis can be very stressful for people. We've suddenly changed our way of life to prevent the spread of what can be a deadly virus. There's a lot of uncertainty right now. For the most vulnerable in our community, there's also fear of losing basic necessities such as food and shelter because of lost income.

- ### When Safe Space Shuts Down, Who Takes Attendance?

When she first arrived at City Heights's Joyner Elementary in September, Charitee noticed Alisa's resistance to school. Each morning she came to school she started crying. I met with each of her teachers—as I do for all the students on my caseload—to find out more about their performance in class and get a sense of what I can expect. I learned that Alisa had been struggling with attendance for a while and that she would cling to her grandmother. I thought, "Hmmm... what is it about school that makes her anxious?"

- ### COVID-19 Crisis - Guide to Free Food

Many San Diego County residents have lost their jobs, are hurting financially and worried about where their next meal will come from. Fortunately, there are many different ways to get food in San Diego, whether it's from a local business, food bank, or other nonprofit program. If you can, support local businesses, especially the ones donating meals, as this will help them continue to serve the community.

Here's a rundown of the many places offering food for those in need:

If an employee would like to direct a portion of there donation to another agency, they will click the Designations bar to expand that section.

They have the option to direct their gift to UWSD's Women United Fund (for local campaigns), search for agencies to support, or write in a nonprofit if they can't find an agency through the search feature. All write-in donations are vetted by UWSD's finance department before any funds are released.

If the donation is at the Leadership level, the employee will have the option of giving a recognition name.

FOR YOUR RECORDS...

Ryan,

Thanks to your contribution, we're helping children reach critical educational milestones, transition to college or career, and go on to create stable, successful lives of their own. Together, we're supporting San Diego's students from cradle to career, and ensuring that families have the support they need to ensure their children's success.

But we couldn't have done it without you.

THANK YOU!

Here's how your dollars are making an impact in San Diego:

ALIGN LEVERAGE TRANSFORM

Last year, United Way of San Diego County aligned with more than 100 community partners and leveraged investments from 13,000+ individuals and 350+ corporate partners to transform the lives of children, young adults, and families in San Diego.

A FEW HIGHLIGHTS:

- 86% of students in Readers in the Heights initiative maintained or improved their reading abilities.
- 6,000+ hours of support was provided to schools, students, and families to address chronic absenteeism.
- $47 million in federal and state refunds were brought back to San Diego.
- 37,000+ families were supported through food distribution, rent/mortgage assistance, utilities assistance, and free tax preparation services.

To see your donation in action, hear inspiring stories and receive exclusive invitations, follow us on social media using the buttons below.

Please remember to use the print button at the bottom of this page to print your pledge summary to serve as a record of your donation for tax purposes.

Thank you for building children up for success, building stronger families, and building a better San Diego County!

Once the employee has clicked the Confirm button, they are taken to a Thank You page.

They'll see a thank you message from United Way, information about how their donation is helping the community, and details of their donation.

This page is printable for the employee to keep as a record of their donation. A confirmation email with the same information is also sent if they chose that option.

During the course of the company's campaign, the employee can log back in and update or add to their donation.
